Sequana Sundawg Ridge 2008 Pinot Noir

92 Points

(90-95 Outstanding approaching the best)

"Deep ruby color; deep, dark cherry aromas with earth and spice notes; rich, ripe, deep cherry flavors with nice earth and cinnamon notes; sweet oak; silky texture; good structure and balance; long finish. Rich, ripe and silky Pinot that drinks well by itself but really calls out for a grilled pork chop."

(Outstanding)

“Vivid ruby. Higher in pitch than the Dutton Ranch bottling, displaying wild strawberry, raspberry and fresh rose, along with a hint of Asian spices. Quite perfumed in the mouth, offering spicy red fruit flavors and a touch of rose pastille. Finishes long, sappy, spicy and energetic, with a repeating raspberry note.”

“You’ll find an unusual note of freshly crushed black pepper in this Pinot Noir. Not overwhelming, but enough to vie with the cherries, cola and sandalwood. It’s an excellent wine, dry and silky...”
